Montana Challenges

Joe Turner Sporting Editor, The Times-Dispatch:

Sir,—I want the people of Richmond to know that I am the man Joe Turner must throw before he can call himself the world's middleweight champion. I have been anxious to get a match with Turner for a long time, and now that I am in Richmond I won't spo until he gives me a match. I believe that I am in Richmond I won't spo until he gives me a match. I believe that I am entified to a match with him. If he's a regular champion and means what he says when he says that he will defend his title against all comers, let him cover my $200 that I am anxious and ready to post with The Times-Dispatch sporting editor. I will make 165 pounds for Turner, and believe that I am the best mm. Yours truly,

"Con" Albright, the Western wild-cat, came into his own last night at the City Auditorium by defeating Earnest Pineau, the French champion, in two straight falls. "Bull' Montana, the Italian bone-breaker, lived up to his reputation by defeating "Young" Sigfried, the speedy little wrestler from New Jersey, in two straight falls.

Montana won the first fall from Sigfried after fourteen minutes of the hardest sort of wrestling. He threw the plucky New Jersey lad through the medium of a scissors and half-Nelson. In the second fall Sigfried took the intitative, and it took the "bone-breaker" a full twenty-five minutes to down him. The second fall was won with a double arm lock. Montana's work was far from pleasing to the rather poor crowd, while "Young" Sigfried's clever work won him many friends, and it is more than probable that he will be seen in action again in Richmond before many moons.

Albright had little trouble with Pineau, winning the first fail in seventeen minutes with a body seissors and head lock. The second fall went to "Connie" after exactly five minutes work. He threw the Frenchman with a half-Nelson crotch hold. Pineau proved himself a very clever wrestler, but was simply outclassed by Albright. After the second fail, Albright issued a sweeping challenge to all aspiring middleweights, the challenge being aimed, however, at Joe Turner, the present champion. Turner responded to the defi by saying that he was willing and anxious to meet Albright; but that he had already received challenges from several of the prominent matmen up North, and that they would receive first consideration. It is very probable that Turner and Albright will get together some time in the near future, the match to be staged in Richmond. American Locomotive Company, James C. ALBRIGHT WINS; AMERICAN LEAGUE SO DOES MONTANA NAMES SCHEDULE

Chicago, Ill., February 11.—American League schedule makers, who to-night announced their program for the coming season, awarded to Boston, New York, Chicago and Detroit the opening games set for Tuesday, April 14.

The only four conflicting dates scheduled with the National League will be played in Chicago on Sundays. In the old days conflicts were more frequent, and took place in St. Louis as well as Chicago, but the removal of the Sunday ball ban in Detroit and Cleveland has made it possible to lessen them. The season closes three days earlier in the West section than in the East. Sunday, October 4, sees the end of the former division. The last games in the East are to be played October 7.
